1. We note your response to comment 2. Although you have indicated that you will include a comparative IFRS measure with equal or greater prominence, we note that you have not included a comparative IFRS measure for the operating EBITDA margin percentage quantified in your proposed disclosure revisions. Please identify for us the comparative IFRS measure for Operating EBITDA margin and confirm that you will revise your disclosures accordingly to comply with prominence guidelines.

4. We note your response to comment 9. As previously requested, please tell us if your chief

5. We note your response to comment 16 regarding the classification of your $1 billion of

5.125% subordinated notes as equity instruments under IFRS and have the following comments:

deliver cash to the bondholders, as discussed in paragraphs 11 and 13 of IAS 32,

 $\,$ note that the Indenture for these Notes, filed as exhibit 4.6 to your Form 20-F for the

the Note and indicates that you have promised to pay the principal sum of the notes $\qquad \qquad \text{upon redemption.}$

 $$\operatorname{\textsc{We}}$ note per the Indenture that the entire principal amount of all of the Notes and any payable in case of a bankruptcy or liquidation event. Tell us how you concluded that $\hbox{this provision does not result in a contractual obligation to deliver cash to another} \\$ definition of an equity instrument as defined in paragraph $11\ \mathrm{of}$ IAS $32.\ \mathrm{In}\ \mathrm{this}$ regard, it is unclear from the Indenture how these Notes evidence a residual interest in your assets after deducting all liabilities since upon a bankruptcy or liquidation $% \left(1\right) =\left(1\right) +\left(1$
