Explanatory Note

Cemex, S.A.B. de C.V. ("Cemex") (NYSE: CX) is furnishing this Amendment on Form 6-K/A (this "Amendment") to the second quarter 2024 results for Cemex included as Exhibit 2 in the Form 6-K, furnished on July 25, 2024 (the "Original 6-K"), solely to correct certain information contained in the Original 6-K.

In page 2 of Exhibit 2, Second quarter 2024 results for Cemex, in the Original 6-K (Page 2 of the Original 6-K), the following changes should be made:

(i) In the last paragraph of the second column, in the "Controlling interest net income" section, the paragraph should read "Controlling interest net income was 15% lower than the same quarter of 2023. The lower income reflects primarily a non-cash negative effect in foreign exchange results related to the depreciation of the Mexican Peso, partially offset by higher operating earnings, a positive effect in results from financial instruments and lower income tax."

Except as specifically described in this explanatory note, this Amendment does not amend, modify, or update any disclosures contained in the Original 6-K, including with respect to any events occurring after the furnishing of the Original 6-K.

Cemex reports EBITDA growth and highest EBITDA margin in eight years

Monterrey, Mexico. July 25, 2024 – Cemex reported strong second quarter results today, with a 2% increase in EBITDA, while EBTIDA margin expanded to the highest level since 2016. EBITDA margin was propelled by favorable price-to-cost dynamics, with prices rising mid-single digits amidst decelerating costs. Net Sales were flat compared to the second quarter of 2023, reflecting difficult weather conditions in key markets offset by pricing momentum.

"Our strong second quarter results demonstrate the efficacy of our commercial approach and growth strategy. Pricing contribution of our products continues to exceed decelerating input cost inflation, while our bolt-on investments, mainly in the US, and our Urbanization Solutions business, continued to support EBITDA growth," said Fernando A. González, CEO of Cemex. "On Climate Action, we continue to make steady progress in decarbonization with a 3% decline in Scope 1 emissions year-to-date. European operations are leading the way, with emissions today already at European industry 2030 targets and within reach of Cemex's consolidated 2030 targets, almost six years ahead of time."

During the quarter, Cemex achieved another important milestone with its second Investment Grade rating from Fitch Ratings. Cemex was also recognized as the top-scoring company in the World Benchmarking Alliance's 2024 Climate and Energy Benchmark, among 91 of the world's most influential aluminum, cement, and steel companies, evidence that Cemex's leadership in sustainability holds up well even beyond the cement industry.

Cemex's Consolidated 2024 Second Quarter Financial and Operational Highlights

- Net Sales were flat at US$4,494 million.
- EBITDA increased 2% to US$965 million.
- EBITDA margin increased 0.3pp to 21.5%.
- Free Cash Flow after Maintenance Capital Expenditures was US$252 million.
- Growth investments account for 10% of total EBITDA.
- Urbanization Solutions business EBITDA increased 10%.
- European operations have nearly reached Cemex consolidated 2030 CO2 reduction target, ~6 years in advance.

Controlling interest Net Income was US$230 million.

Geographical Markets 2024 Second Quarter Highlights

- Net Sales in Mexico increased 6%, to US$1,381 million, while EBITDA grew 14% to US$454 million, a record level. EBITDA Margin expanded 2.1pp to 32.9%.
- Net Sales in the United States declined 2% to US$1,392 million. EBITDA decreased 2% to US$297 million, and EBITDA Margin reached a peak level of 21.4%, a 0.1pp expansion.
- In the Europe, Middle East, and Africa region, Net Sales were down 7%, to US$1,190 million. EBITDA was US$175 million, 12% lower, while EBITDA Margin decreased 0.9pp to 14.7%.
- Cemex's operations in South, Central America, and the Caribbean region reported Net Sales of US$457 million, an increase of 3%, while EBITDA declined 2% to US$110 million. EBITDA Margin decreased 1pp, to 24.2%.

Note: All percentage variations related to Net Sales and EBITDA are for our continued operations and compared to the same period of last year. All references to EBITDA mean Operating EBITDA.

Consolidated net sales reached US$4.5 billion, almost flat compared to the second quarter of 2023. Our higher prices in local currency terms were offset by lower consolidated volumes, impacted by difficult weather conditions in several of our regions. Higher Net sales in Mexico and SCAC were offset by decreases in the US and EMEA.

Cost of sales, as a percentage of Net Sales, decreased by 1.0pp to 64.3% during the second quarter of 2024 from 65.3% in the same period last year, driven by pricing of our products and cost tailwinds, particularly in energy to produce cement. This was the seventh consecutive quarter of a year-over-year decrease in cost of sales as a percentage of Net Sales.

Operating expenses, as a percentage of Net Sales, increased by 1.0pp to 21.3% during the second quarter of 2024 compared with the same period last year, driven by higher payroll, selling and distribution costs.

Operating EBITDA grew 2%, and 1% on a like-to-like basis, reaching US$965 million. Even with the decline in volumes and a strong prior year comparison, Operating EBITDA increased for the 6th consecutive quarter. Our pricing contribution continues to exceed decelerating input cost inflation, while growth investments and Urbanization Solutions continued to support Operating EBITDA growth.

Operating EBITDA margin reached the highest level of the last 8 years, increasing 0.3pp year-over-year, and 2.8pp sequentially. Our pricing strategy, adjusted to reflect decelerating cost inflation, continued to pay off with a widening price-to-cost ratio. This was the fifth year-over-year consecutive quarter of margin expansion.

Controlling interest net income was 15% lower than the same quarter of 2023. The lower income reflects primarily a non-cash negative effect in foreign exchange results related to the depreciation of the Mexican Peso, partially offset by higher operating earnings, a positive effect in results from financial instruments and lower income tax.

Our Mexican operations once again delivered exceptional results, with Operating EBITDA reaching record levels, driven by higher prices of our products, strong volumes, and decelerating input cost inflation. Operating EBITDA margin increased 2.1pp year-over-year due to mid-single digit increases in our prices, as well as decelerating costs, particularly in energy.

While bad weather in June disrupted quarterly performance, volume growth remained strong, reflecting the dynamism in both formal and informal construction. Infrastructure and nearshoring, with particular strength in the north and southeast, continued to be the principal growth drivers. Bagged cement volumes grew at a mid-single-digit pace, benefiting from increased social spending and a favorable comparison base.

In the United States, Operating EBITDA declined 2% year-over-year due to lower volumes and higher maintenance costs. Operating EBITDA margin expanded to peak levels, despite weather challenges in much of our portfolio, driven by higher prices of our products and lower cost inflation in the form of fuel and imports.

Cement and ready-mix volumes declined 7% and 12%, respectively, due to continued difficult weather conditions, a softening residential sector, portfolio rationalization, competitive dynamics in certain micro markets and timing of several large projects. Aggregates volumes, typically less impacted by weather conditions, declined low-single digit. We estimate the impact of weather conditions on cement volumes explains ~25% of the volume decline.

Pricing for our core products was up mid to high-single digit year-over-year. Year-to-date, we have implemented cement price increases in ~70% of our portfolio, with increases in all markets except Northern California and Texas. Sequential price increases in these markets were between low to mid-single digits in percentage terms. During July, we implemented mid-single digit cement price increases in much of our Texas market. In aggregates, we have implemented price increases in all markets, with prices growing 6% point-to-point from December to June.

In EMEA, Operating EBITDA declined 12% driven by a continued challenging demand backdrop in Europe and geopolitical events in the Middle East, although the magnitude of the decline was considerably less than what we experienced in the first quarter.

In Europe, Operating EBITDA declined high-single digits against a tough comparison base, due to continued volume weakness derived from slow growth in western Europe and the current construction ban in Paris ahead of the Olympics. Operating EBITDA margin declined against a difficult record level comparison base last year.

We continue to see a divergence in volume performance between western and eastern Europe, with western European countries such as the UK, Germany and France experiencing large declines, while our eastern European footprint, Czech Republic, Poland and Croatia all continue to grow significantly.

Despite volume headwinds, prices for our products have remained resilient across our European footprint, with flattish year-over-year and sequential performance.

Cemex Europe continues to lead the way in Climate Action with carbon emissions within reach of achieving our 2030 consolidated target, almost 6 years ahead of time. Additionally, Cemex's Europe carbon footprint today is already significantly below the European cement industry's comparable 2030 target. Our European operations continue testing record levels of clinker factor with a reduction of 3pp year-to-date to below 70%, using traditional decarbonization levers.

In MEA Operating EBITDA experienced a decline due to ongoing tensions from the conflict in the Middle East and from an important FX impact in Egypt.

Last quarter, we announced the sale of our Philippines operations, and we expect to close the divestiture by year end. As a result, our Philippines business has been re-classified as a discontinued operation and is excluded from our 2024 operating results and the 2023 results included in this report for comparison purposes.

In South, Central America and Caribbean, Sales grew low-single digit driven by positive pricing contribution across the region. Operating EBITDA declined 2% driven by higher maintenance, which more than offset the positive pricing contribution, as well as the lower energy and raw material costs.

Cement volumes were flat, with continued growth in bulk cement supported mainly by the infrastructure sector.

The formal sector drove demand in the region with large infrastructure projects such as highways and metro line projects in Bogota and Panama, the fourth bridge over the Panama Canal and tourism projects in the Dominican Republic.

For second quarter 2024, Total debt and Net debt do not include debt of Cemex Holdings Philippines, Inc. (CHP) and its subsidiaries owed to third parties other than the Cemex group, as this debt was reclassified to liabilities held for sale as a result of the agreement to divest our operations in the Philippines, as per IFRS.

- Includes leases, in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). (1)
- (2) Calculated in accordance with our contractual obligations under our main bank debt agreements; includes EBITDA and debt from our Philippines operations (3)
- Includes the effect of our interest rate derivatives, as applicable.

Net debt decreased by ~US$240 million dollars sequentially, driven by the reclassification of CHP's (Cemex Holding's Philippines, Inc.) third party debt, the free cash flow generated in the quarter and a favorable debt conversion effect from foreign exchange, partially offset by dividends, coupons of subordinated notes, and other cash items.

During the quarter, we achieved another important milestone with receipt of our second Investment Grade rating from Fitch Ratings. Consolidated leverage ratio stood at 2.13 times, about 1/3 of a turn lower than last year, and slightly lower than first quarter. Our capital structure remains strong, with ample liquidity and no material debt maturities until 2026.

Equity-related information

As of December 31, 2023, based on our latest 20-F annual report, the number of outstanding CPO-equivalents was 14,490,870,243. See Cemex's reports furnished to or filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission for information, if any, regarding repurchases of securities and other developments that may have caused a change in the number of CPO-equivalents outstanding after December 31, 2023. For the three-month period ended June 30, 2024, no CPOs were repurchased by Cemex

One Cemex ADS represents ten Cemex CPOs. One Cemex CPO represents two Series A shares and one Series B share

For purposes of this report, outstanding CPO-equivalents equal the total number of Series A and B shares outstanding as if they were all held in CPO form, less CPOs held by Cemex and its subsidiaries, which as of December 31, 2023, were 20,541,277. Restricted CPOs allocated to eligible employees as variable compensation are not included in the outstanding CPO-equivalents.

amount of US$658 million. Cemex's derivative financial instruments portfolio includes swaps 3) and financial options. These derivative instruments are mainly used to hedge the market price risk of certain fuels associated with certain Cemex operations, such as transportation and production. In addition, there are call spreads on Brent oil and derivatives thereof, designed to economically mitigate the exposure related to the cost of fuel implicit in distribution expenses.

Under IFRS, companies are required to recognize the fair value of all derivative financial instruments on the balance sheet as financial assets or liabilities, with changes in such fair market values recorded in the income statement, except when transactions are entered into for cash-flow hedging purposes, in such cases, changes in the fair market value of the related derivative instruments are recognized temporarily in equity and subsequently reclassified into earnings as the effects of the underlying are recognized in the income statement. Moreover, in transactions related to net investment hedges, changes in fair market value are recorded directly in equity as part of the currency translation effect and are reclassified to the income statement only in the case of a disposal of the net investment. As of June 30, 2024, in connection with its derivatives portfolio's fair market value recognition, Cemex recognized a change in mark to market as compared to 1Q24 resulting in a financial asset of US$53 million.

Discontinued operations

In connection with the agreements entered separately with DACON Corporation, DMCI Holdings, Inc. and Semirara Mining & Power Corporation announced on April 25, 2024 for the sale of all our operations and assets in the Philippines, and which Cemex expects to finalize before December 31, 2024 subject to the satisfaction of closing conditions, including, but not limited to, the approval by the Philippine Competition Commission and the fulfillment of any mandatory tender offer requirement by the purchasers to the shareholders of CHP (Cemex Holdings Philippines, Inc.) including the non-controlling interest owned by third parties in CHP after customary authorizations, for the periods ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, Cemex's operations in the Philippines are reported in Cemex's income statements, net of income tax, in the single line item "Discontinued operations."

The following table presents condensed combined information of the income statement for the six-month periods ended June 30, 2024, and 2023, for Cemex's discontinued operations related to the Philippines:

Definition of terms

Free cash flow Cemex defines it as Operating EBITDA minus net interest expense, maintenance and expansion capital expenditures, change in working capital, taxes paid, and other cash items (net other expenses less proceeds from the disposal of obsolete and/or substantially depleted operating fixed assets that are no longer in operation and coupon payments on our perpetual notes).

I-t-I (like to like) on a like-to-like basis adjusting for currency fluctuations and for investments/divestments when applicable.

Maintenance capital expenditures equal investments incurred for the purpose of ensuring the company's operational continuity. These include capital expenditures on projects required to replace obsolete assets or maintain current operational levels, and mandatory capital expenditures, which are projects required to comply with governmental regulations or company policies.

Net debt equals total debt (debt plus financial leases) minus cash and cash equivalents.

Sales, when referring to reportable segment sales, revenues are presented before eliminations of intragroup transactions. When referring to Consolidated Sales, these represent the total revenues (Net Sales) of the company as reported in the financial statements.

Operating EBITDA, or EBITDA equals operating earnings before other income and expenses, net, plus depreciation and amortization.

Operating EBITDA margin, or EBITDA margin, is calculated by dividing our "Operating EBITDA" by our sales.

pp equals percentage points.

Prices all references to pricing initiatives, price increases or decreases, refer to our prices for our products and services.

SG&A expenses equal selling and administrative expenses

Strategic capital expenditures equal investments incurred with the purpose of increasing the company's profitability. These include capital expenditures on projects designed to increase profitability by expanding capacity, and margin improvement capital expenditures, which are projects designed to increase profitability by reducing costs.

Working capital equals operating accounts receivable (including other current assets received as payment in kind) plus historical inventories minus operating payables.

% var percentage variation

Earnings per ADS

Please refer to page 2 for the number of average ADSs outstanding used for the calculation of earnings per ADS.

According to the IAS 33 Earnings per share, the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding is determined considering the number of days during the accounting period in which the shares have been outstanding, including shares derived from corporate events that have modified the stockholder's equity structure during the period, such as increases in the number of shares by a public offering and the distribution of shares from stock dividends or recapitalizations of retained earnings and the potential diluted shares (Stock options, Restricted Stock Options and Mandatory Convertible Shares). The shares issued because of share dividends, recapitalizations and potential diluted shares are considered as issued at the beginning of the period.

Among others, such risks, uncertainties, and assumptions that could cause results to differ, or that otherwise could have an impact on us, include those discussed in Cemex's most recent annual report and those detailed from time to time in Cemex's other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Mexican Stock Exchange (Bolsa Mexicana de Valores), which factors are incorporated herein by reference, including, but not limited to: changes in Mexico's or other countries' in which we operate, general economic, political and social conditions, including new governments, elections, changes in inflation, interest and foreign exchange rates, employment levels, population growth, consumer confidence and the liquidity of the financial and capital markets; the cyclical activity of the construction sector and reduced construction activity in our end markets; our exposure to sectors that impact our and our clients' businesses particularly those operating in the commercial and residential construction sectors, and the infrastructure and energy sectors; volatility in pension plan asset values and liabilities, which may require cash contributions to the pension plans; changes in spending levels for residential and commercial construction; the availability of short-term credit lines or working capital facilities, which can assist us in connection with market cycles; any impact of not maintaining investment grade debt rating on our cost of capital and on the cost of the products and services we purchase; availability of raw materials and related fluctuating prices of raw materials, as well as of goods and services in general, in particular increases in prices as a result of inflation; our ability to maintain and expand our distribution network and maintain favorable relationships with third parties who supply us with equipment and essential suppliers; competition in the markets in which we offer our products and services; the impact of environmental cleanup costs and other remedial actions, and other liabilities relating to existing and/or divested businesses; our ability to secure and permit aggregates reserves in strategically located areas; the timing and amount of federal, state, and local funding for infrastructure; changes in our effective tax rate; our ability to comply and implement technologies that aim to reduce CO2 emissions in jurisdictions with carbon regulations in place: the legal and regulatory environment, including environmental, energy, tax, antitrust, human rights and labor welfare, acquisition-related rules and regulations; the effects of currency fluctuations on our results of operations and financial conditions; our ability to satisfy our obligations under our material debt agreements, the indentures that govern our outstanding notes, and our other debt instruments and financial obligations, including our subordinated notes with no fixed maturity; adverse legal or regulatory proceedings or disputes, such as class actions or enforcement or other proceedings brought by government and regulatory agencies; our ability to protect our reputation; our ability to consummate asset sales, fully integrate newly acquired businesses, achieve costsavings from our cost-reduction initiatives, implement our pricing initiatives for our products, and generally meet our business strategy's goals; the increasing reliance on information technology infrastructure for our sales, invoicing, procurement, financial statements, and other processes that can adversely affect our sales and operations in the event that the infrastructure does not work as intended, experiences technical difficulties, or is subjected to invasion, disruption, or damage caused by circumstances beyond our control, including cyber-attacks, catastrophic events, power outages, natural disasters, computer system or network failures, or other security breaches; climate change, in particular reflected in weather conditions, including but not limited to excessive rain and snow, and disasters such as earthquakes and floods, that could affect our facilities or the markets in which we offer our products and services or from where we source our raw materials; trade barriers, including tariffs or import taxes and changes in existing trade policies or changes to, or withdrawals from, free trade agreements, including the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement; availability and cost of trucks, railcars, barges, and ships, as well as their licensed operators and drivers, for transport of our materials; labor shortages and constraints; our ability to hire, effectively compensate and retain our key personnel and maintain satisfactory labor relations; our ability to detect and prevent money laundering, terrorism financing and corruption, as well as other illegal activities; terrorist and organized criminal activities, social unrest, as well as geopolitical events, such as hostilities, war, and armed conflicts, including the current war between Russia and Ukraine and conflicts in the Middle East; the impact of pandemics, epidemics, or outbreaks of infectious diseases and the response of governments and other third parties, which could adversely affect, among other matters, the ability of our operating facilities to operate at full or any capacity, supply chains, international operations, availability of liquidity, investor confidence and consumer spending, as well as the availability of, and demand for, our products and services; changes in the economy that affect demand for consumer goods, consequently affecting demand for our products and services; the depth and duration of an economic slowdown or recession, instability in the business landscape and lack of availability of credit; declarations of insolvency or bankruptcy, or becoming subject to similar proceedings; and, natural disasters and other unforeseen events (including global health hazards such as COVID-19). This report includes certain non-IFRS financial measures that differ from financial information presented by Cemex in accordance with IFRS in its financial statements and reports containing financial information. The aforementioned non-IFRS financial measures include "Operating EBITDA (operating earnings before other expenses, net plus depreciation and amortization)" and "Operating EBITDA Margin". The closest IFRS financial measure to Operating EBITDA adds depreciation and amortization to the IFRS financial measure. Our Operating EBITDA Margin is calculated by dividing our Operating EBITDA for the period by our revenues as reported in our financial statements. We believe there is no close IFRS financial measure to compare Operating EBITDA Margin. These non-IFRS financial measures are designed to complement and should not be considered superior to financial measures calculated in accordance with IFRS. Although Operating EBITDA and Operating EBITDA is the financial measure so operating performance, an alternative to cash flows or a measure of financial position under IFRS, Operating EBITDA is the financial measure used by Cemex's management to review operating performance and profitability, for decision-making purposes and to allocate resources. Moreover, our Operating EBITDA is a measure used by Cemex's creditors to review our ability to internally fund capital expenditures, service or incur debt and comply with financial covenants under our financing agreements. Furthermore, Cemex's management regularly reviews our Operating EBITDA Margin by reportable segment and on a consolidated basis as a measure of performance and profitability.  EBITDA reaching another record level with significant margin expansion supported by volumes and favorable price-to-cost dynamics

- Mid-single digit volume growth despite difficult June weather conditions
- Volumes continues to reflect dynamism of both formal and informal construction
- Mid-single digit increase in prices for our three core products, outpacing input cost inflation

U.S.: Record EBITDA margin despite volume decline

pp var	0.1pp	0.5pp

- EBITDA margin expansion supported by favorable price-to-cost ratio, despite decline in volumes
- EBITDA declined slightly due to lower volumes and higher maintenance costs
- Lower cement and ready-mix volumes largely due to difficult weather, softening market demand, portfolio rationalization, competitive dynamics and timing of large projects
- Prices for our products increasing mid to high single digits
- Expecting better volume performance in back half of year, supported by positive underlying demand in infrastructure and industrial, and easier prior year comps

EMEA: Resilient prices despite decline in volumes

- EBITDA impacted by challenging demand backdrop in western Europe and geopolitical events in the Middle East
- In Europe, divergence in volume performance between western and eastern markets
- Challenging cement volumes in Germany, UK, and France, significantly offset by growth in Poland, Czech Republic and Croatia
- Despite volume headwinds, resilient prices for our products in Europe
- Leading the industry in  $\rm CO_2$  reduction in Europe, with record level of clinker factor  ${<}70\%$

Note: The Philippines has been re-classified as a discontinued operation, no longer included in our operating results

- Pricing contribution driving top-line growth with cement and ready-mix prices increasing mid-single to low-double digits, respectively
- Flat cement volumes with formal construction, mainly in the infrastructure sector, supporting demand
- EBITDA declined slightly, driven by timing of maintenance, more than offsetting positive pricing contribution and lower energy and raw material costs
