Operating EBITDA margin during the first quarter of 2021 increased by 0.8pp compared with that of the first quarter of 2020. The EBITDA margin expansion was mainly driven by higher volumes and lower SG&A, despite higher maintenance expenses for US$5.7 million during Controlling interest net income during the first quarter was US$4 million, compared with a loss of US$30 million during the same quarter of 2020. The improvement was mainly driven by higher Operating earnings and lower Other income (expenses), net.

In Colombia, the industry is enjoying robust growth, with the self-construction and infrastructure sectors as the main drivers of demand. Our cement volumes in the country grew 4%, less than the industry in the quarter, mainly due to our pricing strategy and competitive dynamics.

Our cement prices during the quarter improved by 4% year-over-year and by 1% sequentially, in local-currency terms.

Despite the imposition of new lockdown measures in April, we believe the outlook remains favorable, supported by record home sales, execution of the existing 4G highway projects, as well as the rollout of new infrastructure programs.

Year-over-year percentage variation.

In Panama, our cement volumes declined by 11% on a year-over-year basis and improved by 19% sequentially. Industry cement volumes remained weak during the first two months of the year but showed signs of recovery in March. Our cement volume performance on a year-over-year basis reflects a base effect from a new cement producer who entered the market in June 2020.

We are improving our plant-capacity utilization by exporting cement and clinker to nearby markets. We exported ~40K tons in 1Q21. Please note that the effect of exports in volume and price is not included in the section of the table above which refers to "Domestic gray cement".

In Costa Rica, our cement volumes during the first quarter increased 7% on the back of a pick-up in activity in the infrastructure and self-construction sectors. Our quarterly cement prices improved by 2% year-over-year and by 1% sequentially.

We are maximizing opportunities to reach optimal plant capacity utilization in the country by selling clinker locally, and exporting cement and clinker to nearby markets.

In the Rest of CLH region, our cement volumes during the quarter improved by 16%, reaching the highest levels since 2016. Cement volumes increased in all three countries in the Rest of CLH region.

In Guatemala, our cement volumes were driven by strong activity in the self-construction sector, a segment where we have a higher relative presence, as well as a gradual recovery in the formal sector. Our cement prices improved by 1%, both on a year-over-year and sequential basis, in local-currency terms.

In Nicaragua, our cement volumes improved by 17% driven by the self-construction sector, as well as by government-sponsored projects. Cement consumption during the quarter was also supported by increased remittances. Going forward, socio-political risks in the country could increase due to the presidential elections scheduled for this November.

DEFINITIONS OF TERMS AND DISCLOSURES

Methodology for translation and presentation of results

Under IFRS, CLH reports its consolidated results in its functional currency, which is the US Dollar, by translating the financial statements of foreign subsidiaries using the corresponding exchange rate at the reporting date for the balance sheet and the corresponding exchange rates at the end of each month for the income statement.

For the reader's convenience, Colombian peso amounts for the consolidated entity are calculated by converting the US dollar amounts using the closing COP/US$ exchange rate at the reporting date for balance sheet purposes, and the average COP/US$ exchange rate for the corresponding period for income statement purposes. The exchange rates are provided below.

Per-country/region selected financial information of the income statement is presented before corporate charges and royalties which are included under "other and intercompany eliminations."

Consolidated financial information

When reference is made to consolidated financial information means the financial information of CLH together with its consolidated subsidiaries.

Presentation of financial and operating information

Individual information is provided for Colombia, Panama and Costa Rica.

Countries in Rest of CLH include Nicaragua, Guatemala and El Salvador.

Maintenance capital expenditures investments incurred for the purpose of ensuring CLH's operational continuity. These include capital expenditures on projects required to replace obsolete assets or maintain current operational levels, and mandatory capital expenditures, which are projects required to comply with governmental regulations or internal policies.

Net debt equals total debt minus cash and cash equivalents.

Operating EBITDA equals operating earnings before other expenses, net, plus depreciation and operating amortization.

pp equals percentage points.

EoP equals End of Period.

Strategic capital expenditures investments incurred with the purpose of increasing CLH's profitability. These include capital expenditures on projects designed to increase profitability by expanding capacity, and margin improvement capital expenditures, which are projects designed to increase profitability by reducing costs.

Working capital equals operating accounts receivable (including other current assets received as payment in kind) plus historical inventories minus operating payables.
